

Employees Activity Organization
Representatives Meeting
December 20, 2022 Conference Room 4

EAO Representatives in attendance:

Rick Fowles	Casey Draper	Kevin Miller
Helen Erickson	Carl Watson	Dustin Peay
James Dean	Kolyer Andersen	Kurt Sorensen
Tyler Finlinson

Convened at: 10 a.m.

Minute Approval

Rick Fowles made a motion to approve the minutes for November 16, 2022; Carl Watson seconded the motion. The minutes were approved as distributed.

Company Christmas Party

Magleby's did a good job serving employees faster with the three lines set up instead of two; the food was good and hot.

Approximately 20 retirees attended, a few coming from some distance away.

An employee questioned why we didn't include more spouses in the regular drawings. The reason is because this is an 'employee' party that the spouses attend. And the gift cards that were provided could be used by either spouse.

Employees enjoyed Jason Hewlett, the DJ comedian. His routine was clean and he kept things moving when he helped hand out the drawing prizes.

Light Parade Floats

There was a low float turnout at both Delta and Nephi parades. There is a 'Christmas in the County' that is held in Nephi that seems better attended. The discussion continued as to whether IPSC should participate in that instead, because Nephi seems to be going away from the light parade. The 'Christmas in the County' is held on a different day, so attending this will help with the issue of trying to juggle two floats on the same day.

Planning Ahead

Casey Draper wondered if there is a better way to plan out the activities as they come up. He asked if we needed spending parameters for costs. Even though Staff wants the employees to enjoy the activities that we provide, and is willing to make available the extra costs, there does need to be parameters for all the EAO does.

Casey then asked if there is a better way to get a count for attendance for the activities, some sort of RSVP. After a brief discussion no decision was made.

Sub for Santa

Joni Dutson turned over the duties for the Sub for Santa to Casey Draper. He will work with Karla Dutson to round up the cash and presents and deliver them by the end of the week.
